Newark, N.J.

Dear Mrs. Manley:

I asked Frank Forbes to inform you that July 19 was okay, and that I would write later when I was in New York last week. I regret that I could not stay for the meeting, but as you perhaps read I was just returning to work after attending my father's funeral and did not feel much like sitting in on a baseball session.

July 19 is okay and I will write details later. The 18th will be okay, too, for the same spot or Annapolis, Md., so count those dates for this territory and I will write you within two or three days for full particulars. Incidentally, is another league club available for the same days. It would be a much better attraction. I wrote from the office, so that you would be certain to get it in time.

Yours truly,
Art Carter
